

Staff | July 17, 2015

Sand Castles On The Beach in South Boston

On July 15-16, five Master Sand Sculptors will be creating large Sand Castles at DCR's Carson Beach near the McCormack Bath House in South Boston and at DCR's Wollaston Beach near the yacht club in Quincy as part of Save the Harbor/Save the Bay's Better Beaches Program before competing in the Revere Beach International Sand Sculpting Festival.

Marielle Heessels from the Netherlands and Leonardo Ugolini from Italy will be creating a 15-ton Sand Castle on DCR's Carson Beach in South Boston.

"As a member of the Metropolitan Beaches Commission, I'm happy that such great programs are available for the public," said Rep. Nick Collins, who represents South Boston. "I'm looking forward to seeing what Marielle and Leonardo will put together and hope that people will come by Carson Beach to see their great work and enjoy our local beaches."

Abe Waterman of Prince Edward Island, Morgan Rudluff from California and Kevin Crawford from Australia will be on DCR's Wollaston Beach in Quincy sculpting a 20-ton Sand Castle.

This year the Revere Beach International Sand Sculpting Festival will be held on Friday, July 24 and Saturday, July 25 from 10:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. and from 10:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. on Sunday, July 26. This year's event features 10 Solo Master Sand Sculptors and 5 teams of Two Master Sand Sculptors competing in our expanded Duo Competition. Admission is free and open to the public. We suggest you take the T to Wonderland or Revere Beach stations. You can get more information at www.internationalsandsculptingfestival.com.

Save the Harbor/Save the Bay would like to thank the Revere Beach Partnership, the Department of Conservation and Recreation, the Metropolitan Beaches Commission, and all our Better Beaches Program funding partners, sponsors and supporters for making this a truly spectacular summer on the Boston Harbor regions public beaches from Nahant to Nantasket. You can find out more about this year's Better Beaches Program at <http://www.blog.savetheharbor.org/2015/06/a-spectacular-summer-on-beach.html>

"Beach Jam" This Thursday at Curley's M Street Beach

It's back! The 4th Annual Beach Jam sponsored by the BCYF Curley Community Center and MusicBall is this Thursday, July 16th at 6pm. The FREE concert on Curley's Family Friendly M Street Beach will be headlined by the Boston Music Award Winning "Louie Bello Concert Series", Kiss Concert performer B-Capp, the amazing Kendall King, young, up and coming Popstar Jazmin Johnson and many others.

Over the past few years, Beach Jam has had the pleasure and honor of bringing in such talents as World Wide Pop Icon Paula Abdul and NBC's "The Voice" Top Finalist Kristen Merlin, plus many other special guests and local celebrities. South Boston's Michael Caputo does an amazing job every year donating his time and resources in the music industry to help bring a first class event to the BCYF Curley Center and the South Boston community. This year is expected to be the biggest and best yet!

The stage is set up on the beach right by the water and there will be kids activities, face-painting, ice cream, popcorn & refreshments. The best part is it's an awesome family friendly event and it's entirely free. Mark your calendars and save the date for this Thursday, July 16th, 6pm.

Get your beach chairs and blankets ready, throw on your flip flops, dig your feet into the warm sand and enjoy an unbelievable night of live music and one of the summer's best events with a special "Meet & Greet" and photos at concert's end! Doors open at 5:30pm. All are invited!

For further information please contact Youth Worker Barbara Kelly at (617) 635-5104.