The World Music Concert Series, Celebrate Diversity, Build Community – organized by Grammy-nominated global jazz percussionist, educator, and composer Tareq Rantisi — has a spatial and social justice focus, bringing diverse world-class artists to underutilized public spaces. The series features artists representing our local community, in beaches and parks that rarely host public events. The artists are masters of their own cultural traditions. All Concerts are outdoors, free, and intended to be accessible to all people (Immunocompromised, disabled, elderly and children, etc).

Free masks will be available for the public Co-sponsored by ProjectN95.

The World Music Concert Series, Celebrate Diversity, Build Community Revere, and Lynn is supported by a grant from Save the Harbor/Save the Bay and the Massachusetts Department of Conservation and Recreation (DCR).
